DRIFTMOOR

Adventure Hook Catalog

A broad review deck of campaign arcs, town mysteries, wilderness expeditions, short adventures, and character-driven stories.

99	8	3
distinct hooks	review sections	provenance labels

How to use this catalog

Mark the box beside anything that sparks. "Canon" hooks are directly authored in the existing character and place files. "Seed" or "synthesis" entries connect authored clues. "Expansion" entries are new adventures extrapolated from established material. Similar clues are consolidated only when they point to the same playable adventure.

Review notes: _____

_____

The Obelisk and the Deep Mystery

12 hooks

[ ] The Hunger Beneath — CANON

The obelisk was a seal, not a monument. Its fracture is waking or releasing the entity named in the inscriptions as 'the hunger beneath.'

[ ] Repair the Binding — EXPANSION

Find the surviving nodes of the ancient network and decide whether the obelisk can be repaired, replaced, or must be destroyed before the seal fails.

[ ] The Shattering Was Deliberate — EXPANSION

Evidence suggests the old magical catastrophe was sabotage. Identify who broke the obelisk and whether their successors are finishing the work.

[ ] A Second Shattering — EXPANSION

The obelisk begins pulsing toward another catastrophic release. The party must interpret its cycle and interrupt it before the next surge.

[ ] The Obelisk Calls — EXPANSION

One or more characters dream of the Reach and feel compelled to touch the stone. The call may be a plea from the binding, bait from below, or both.

[ ] The Moving Lights — CANON

Darwin's unreported watch logs show lights traveling through the Reach at impossible hours. Follow them to living intruders, ancient custodians, or roaming fragments.

[ ] Shadow Giants — CANON

Wilfred insists that enormous shadow forms move near the cliffs. Prove what he saw and discover whether shadowbeasts are merely juveniles or fragments of something larger.

[ ] The Language of the Builders — CANON

Collect inscriptions from the cliffs, mill, forge, sea stacks, glade, and Drowned Isle to reconstruct the builders' warning and operating instructions.

[ ] The Cloaked Researcher — CANON

Track the stranger who questioned Elyssa about the obelisk before disappearing. They may be a rival scholar, shard buyer, cult agent, or surviving custodian.

[ ] Elyssa's Stolen Fragment — CANON

A ransacked laboratory and missing shard trigger a pursuit through town and into the smuggling routes before the thief can activate or sell it.

[ ] The Corruption Spreads — CANON

Animals act strangely, wounds heal slowly, and shadowbeasts range farther from the Reach. Map the spread and contain a newly infected location.

[ ] Daylight Hunter — CANON

A shadowbeast has appeared on the plains in full daylight. Learn what changed it before an adaptation turns every safe hour into hunting time.

Driftmoor Intrigue and Crime

15 hooks

[ ] The Missing Obelisk Ledger — CANON

Someone removed the town record describing earlier incidents near the Reach. Recover it and expose who wants Driftmoor to forget the last cycle.

[ ] The Shard Smugglers — SYNTHESIS

Suspicious tavern meetings, harbor contacts, and Kelem's collecting point to an organized trade in unstable obelisk fragments.

[ ] Kelem's Real Project — CANON

Break into, bargain for, or investigate Kelem's notes to learn why he overpays for shards and what he intends to assemble from them.

[ ] The Nervous Travelers — CANON

A secretive group repeatedly rents the Broken Lantern meeting room and leaves coded figures behind. Identify their cargo and employer.

[ ] Figures at the Rusty Razor — CANON

Unknown watchers lurk outside Arlan's shop at night. Protect him, follow them, and uncover what part of his old life they recognize.

[ ] Tavian's Past Returns — CANON

Former smuggling associates demand Tavian's help, threaten his new life, or arrive hunting the medallion he refuses to explain.

[ ] The Stolen Medallion — CANON

Recover Tavian's medallion for a rich reward, then decide what to do when its history proves more consequential than he admitted.

[ ] The Cursed Ring — SYNTHESIS

A pawned ring set with an obelisk fragment hums in its case. Find its original owner and break, exploit, or safely contain its influence.

[ ] The Lost Rare-Goods Shipment — CANON

Tavian hires the party to retrieve a missing shipment whose contents and true owner become increasingly uncomfortable discoveries.

[ ] Goods Leaving Jorgen's Store — CANON

Catch the person stealing and smuggling stock from the general store; the theft may connect to shortages, the harbor ring, or desperate townsfolk.

[ ] Jorgen Versus Kelem — CANON

Jorgen wants proof of Kelem's sabotage or illicit dealings. Investigate without becoming a weapon in a commercial feud.

[ ] The Suspicious Long-Term Guest — CANON

Late-night harbor deliveries reach a nervous resident of the Weary Traveler. Martha wants answers without scandal or violence under her roof.

[ ] Bread for an Invisible Crowd — CANON

Someone is buying food for far more people than they admit. Follow the deliveries to refugees, criminals, a hidden expedition, or captives.

[ ] The Vanished Regular — CANON

A bakery customer stopped appearing three weeks ago, and the town becomes evasive when asked why. Reconstruct their final days.

[ ] The Mayor's Private Portrait — EXPANSION

A locked trunk and unlabeled portrait hint at a personal secret that may complicate Aldren's decisions during the crisis.

Disappearances, Rescues, and Pursuits

10 hooks

[ ] Find Fennel — CANON

Lytha's apprentice is stranded in the Fey Glade with three arrows, an improvised spear, and a shadowbeast testing the ward at dusk.

[ ] The Missing Farmer's Child — CANON

A child vanished near the Old Mill while shadowbeasts stalk the riverbank. Search quickly while sorting real tracks from fearful rumor.

[ ] Tessa Follows the Symbols — CANON

The miller's curious daughter slips into the Mistwood to trace the carved marks toward the obelisk. Bring her home before her insight gets her killed.

[ ] The Missing Horse — CANON

A prized horse vanished from Driftmoor, leaving clawed tracks toward Mistwood. Its fate may reveal a predator, transformation, or deliberate lure.

[ ] The Guest Who Went North — SYNTHESIS

A traveler disappeared after heading toward Obelisk Reach, leaving a disturbed room, journal, and cryptic charcoal warning.

[ ] Kidnapped from the Broken Lantern — CANON

A guest's wrecked room and a note mentioning the obelisk suggest an abduction rather than a voluntary expedition.

[ ] The Overdue Supply Caravan — CANON

Driftmoor's supplies are late. Trace the route and determine whether bandits, shadowbeasts, smugglers, or the cargo itself stopped it.

[ ] Jorgen's Missing Caravan — CANON

A second commercial lead turns the overdue caravan into a contested rescue, with multiple claimants and contradictory inventories.

[ ] The Runaway Apprentice — CANON

Kara wants to leave the forge and apprentice with adventurers; her father offers a horse to settle the matter. Escorting her tests duty, consent, and readiness.

[ ] A Voice from the Caverns — EXPANSION

Someone hears a missing person's voice in the Echoing Caverns after all hope of survival should be gone. Decide whether to answer.

Mistwood and Fey Adventures

11 hooks

[ ] What the Pool Took — CANON

Fennel cannot remember what he saw in the Fey Pool. Recover the stolen memory without letting the pool rewrite another mind.

[ ] The Thing That Follows Sound — CANON

A presence hunts noises through the Mistwood. Learn its rules and cross its territory when silence is impossible.

[ ] The Failing Fey Ward — EXPANSION

The glade's barrier weakens at transitions of light. Repair its anchor before shadow creatures learn to cross outside dusk and dawn.

[ ] A Gift with an Obligation — CANON

The glade offers a useful fey gift whose unstated price comes due at the worst possible moment.

[ ] Lost Time in the Glade — CANON

A night's perfect rest costs days outside. Deal with the crises that unfolded while the party slept and discover where the stolen time went.

[ ] The Moor-Witch's Price — SYNTHESIS

Pippa and Cinnabar both seek a witch who trades secrets for memories. Choose what truth is worth surrendering and whose memory can be trusted afterward.

[ ] Mira's Unsanctioned Relic — CANON

Help Mira locate a holy relic in the Mistwood before Elden approves - or before someone else claims it.

[ ] Moonlace Harvest — CANON

Gather rare Moonlace beside the shattered obelisk while territorial shadowbeasts close in and the herb reacts to nearby magic.

[ ] Rare Timber — EXPANSION

Hilda needs a particular Mistwood tree, but taking it risks waking a guardian or violating an old fey boundary.

[ ] The Old Watchtower Inscription — CANON

A recent mark inside the abandoned tower does not match its military graffiti. Identify who left it and what they observed from the summit.

[ ] The Watchtower Cache — CANON

A loose stone conceals coins, a dagger, and an old note whose message can point toward a forgotten route or unfinished duty.

Sea, River, and Road

11 hooks

[ ] The Drowned Isle Chest — CANON

Reach the tide-bound ruins, open the barnacled chest, and survive the shadowy shapes gathering offshore after dark.

[ ] The Drowned Network — CANON

Maps, inscriptions, and an altar-bound fragment prove the obelisk belonged to a larger network extending beneath the sea.

[ ] Shadows Under the Harbor — CANON

Kessla and the fisherfolk see large forms below the boats. Discover why they watch but have not yet attacked.

[ ] The Sea-Stack Carving — CANON

A nearly inaccessible carving matches the Reach symbols. Climb or sail to it and learn what coastal node it marks.

[ ] The Ancient Waypoint — EXPANSION

An old map shows Drowned Isle as a waypoint rather than an isolated shrine. Follow the vanished route to the network's next station.

[ ] The Dark Vial — CANON

The Drowned Isle chest contains preserved black liquid. Determine whether it is shadowbeast essence, a weapon, medicine, or something still alive.

[ ] The Riverbank Predator — CANON

Shadow creatures stalk the Greywater and ordinary wildlife has fallen silent. Patrol the banks and locate what draws them to the water.

[ ] Save the Old Mill — CANON

Erosion threatens the mill foundation while its wheel and stones fail. Repairs uncover why ancient symbols are carved into structural beams.

[ ] Protect the Grain Road — CANON

After a shadowbeast attacks a delivery farmer, escort the next grain shipment and turn the predator's ambush into a hunt.

[ ] Willowford Ambush — EXPANSION

The bridge is Driftmoor's choke point. Defend it from sabotage or use the toll keeper's observations to identify everyone moving along the river road.

[ ] The Storm-Wrecked Secret — EXPANSION

Wilfred's fear of calm water and loss in an old storm lead to a wreck, survivor, or concealed cargo returning with the tide.

Local Threats and Short Adventures

12 hooks

[ ] The Plains Den — CANON

Farmers hire the party to clear a shadowbeast lair from caves among the Stonehearth outcroppings and recover useful parts.

[ ] The Vine in the Apothecary — CANON

Contain the creature occupying Lytha's back room before its unnatural growth spreads into adjoining buildings.

[ ] Shadowbeast Repellent — CANON

Bring Lytha fresh blood for experiments, then field-test her repellent when its first version produces unexpected behavior.

[ ] Clawed Garden Tracks — CANON

Jedrin finds predatory tracks and impossible herb growth at home. Stake out the garden and identify what visits at night.

[ ] The Forge Marks — CANON

Shadowy symbols appeared on Darrin's walls. Determine whether they are sabotage, a warning, or the forge revealing an older structure beneath it.

[ ] The Lantern's Dark Flame — CANON

Beacon Church's sacred light flickers black at night. Trace its connection to the obelisk before the congregation notices or the beacon becomes a doorway.

[ ] Wounds That Will Not Mend — CANON

Gran Lorie has noticed injuries from the Reach heal abnormally slowly. Find the common cause before the condition becomes permanent.

[ ] Noises in the Empty Room — CANON

Scraping, whispers, and thuds come from an unoccupied room above the Broken Lantern. The explanation could be occult, criminal, or trapped between both.

[ ] The Previous Owner's Treasure — CANON

Search the tavern storage room for a rumored relic while navigating Tess's guarded hidden compartment and competing treasure hunters.

[ ] The Skipped Tabs — CANON

Track rowdy travelers who fled their debts and may possess knowledge, trophies, or scars from a shadowbeast encounter.

[ ] The Escalating Land Dispute — CANON

Two farming families approach violence over boundaries and losses. Establish the truth before supernatural predation turns neighbors into enemies.

[ ] Artifact from the Echoing Caverns — CANON

Jorgen offers a generous reward for a specific cavern artifact, but refuses to explain how he knows it exists.

Echoing Caverns Expeditions

7 hooks

[ ] Bring Home Elden's Companions — CANON

Recover the remains of the three people Elden lost decades ago and learn what killed them so quickly.

[ ] The Wrong Echo — EXPANSION

Voices return altered and footsteps answer from the wrong direction. Use the echo pattern to communicate with - or locate - the intelligence below.

[ ] The Secret Burial Vault — CANON

Solve the three-glyph door, survive the ceiling spider, and decide whether the weapon atop the sealed vault should be removed.

[ ] Beyond the Collapsed Tunnel — CANON

A parchment hints at a silent hidden cavern beyond the black pool. Clear or circumvent the rockfall to reach what the builders concealed.

[ ] The Drag Marks — CANON

Evidence at the entrance shows that one victim was moved by someone else. Reconstruct the old expedition and identify the mover.

[ ] The Unreflecting Pool — EXPANSION

The cavern pool reflects no faces or light. Learn what it does reflect, and why the source material warns never to wade into it.

[ ] The Old Weapon's Claimant — EXPANSION

Removing the weapon from the burial vault attracts a rightful heir, awakened guardian, or ancient oath that recognizes its bearer.

Character-Driven Campaign Hooks

21 hooks

[ ] Seraphina: The Guild That Betrayed Her — CANON

Her former guild resurfaces in Driftmoor, hunting her, recruiting her, or pursuing the same shard network.

[ ] Seraphina: Unwanted Power — CANON

Her latent arcane ability reacts to the obelisk, forcing her to learn whether the power came from the guild, the network, or something older.

[ ] Pippa: The Barn Fire — CANON

A survivor or new piece of evidence challenges what Pippa remembers about the fire caused by her wild magic.

[ ] Pippa: Mastery without Surrender — CANON

A teacher offers control over her magic at a price that threatens her freedom, identity, or place among her friends.

[ ] Tobin: The Unmerciful God — CANON

Events force Tobin to confront signs that seem divine but demand cruelty, testing whether faith means obedience or refusal.

[ ] Amara: Heal or Destroy — CANON

Obelisk corruption may be curable, but the safer choice is destruction. Amara must prove healing is possible or accept its limits.

[ ] Brenna: The Dead Sponsor's Contract — CANON

Discover why Brenna's employer died before she arrived and whether the unfinished contract still binds her.

[ ] Brenna: Whitecairn — CANON

A survivor, order, or enemy from the night Ser Halmond died arrives with a different account of her defining failure.

[ ] Kaelin: The Noble Who Burned the Inn — CANON

The tyrant responsible for Kaelin's dead friends extends influence into Driftmoor or becomes entangled in the shard trade.

[ ] Thorgrim: The Road Back to Kragmire — CANON

News from his hold offers redemption, accusation, or a chance to save others from the failure he survived.

[ ] Aeliana: The Lyrendel Rift — CANON

The obelisk's corruption matches the rift in her homeland. Linking the two may save both regions - or reveal that one seals the other.

[ ] Gilthaness: The Quiet Hand — CANON

Unfinished business with his old network arrives in Driftmoor, demanding one final operation or the training of a successor.

[ ] Gilthaness: Othrin Vesper's Legacy — CANON

A clue, weapon, enemy, or student of Othrin forces Gilthaness to decide what his mentor's legacy truly requires.

[ ] Varrak: Blood of the Builders — EXPANSION

His draconic lineage research intersects with the obelisk inscriptions, suggesting his ancestry is part of the network's design.

[ ] Varrak: Shard Obsession — CANON

His fascination escalates into visions, dangerous experimentation, or rivalry with Kelem over a uniquely responsive fragment.

[ ] Hendricks: Driftmoor in Every Portent — CANON

Determine why independent omens keep pointing him toward Driftmoor and whether his presence prevents or completes the predicted disaster.

[ ] Hendricks: Ilse's Death — CANON

Foreknowledge of a new tragedy mirrors the choice that killed Ilse, giving him one chance to act differently.

[ ] Lilar: The Village She Could Not Save — EXPANSION

A survivor arrives with evidence that the old deaths were part of the same corruption now threatening Driftmoor.

[ ] Cinnabar: House Aelmoss — CANON

Secrets from her house tie an old family bargain to the fey glade, silver ring, or ancient binding network.

[ ] Cinnabar: The Silver Ring's Owner — CANON

Identify the unnamed owner of her ring before the owner - or the thing bound to them - comes to reclaim it.

[ ] The Oathworthy Company — SYNTHESIS

Brenna, Gilthaness, Kara, and the party's other would-be mentors face the question of whether this group becomes a lasting company with obligations beyond Driftmoor.